WILLS

By Buster Willis

On a trip to Tampa last week end the grounds and office of the Florida State Fair Association were visited and confusion and plenty was everywhere in preparation for the opening of the fair the following (last) Tuesday. The publicity department and Russell Kay, secretary of the association, were too busy to stop and chat with a representative of the press. Generous offers of any kind of assistance were forthcoming.

The purpose of the visit to the grounds was to find a suitable place for the distribution of several hundred copies of the recently published by the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce. There was no trouble at all in the literature is now on display in three different places on the fair grounds where there is no doubt that they will be seen by hundreds of people.

The fair this year is bigger and better than ever despite the war. Over the main entrance there has been erected a new and impressive "W" signifying victory. Arrangements have been made to have bonds and stamps on sale on the grounds and the whole thing takes on a patriotic and festive atmosphere. Anyone who has an opportunity will find it well worth their time to see this third largest agricultural exposition in the United States.

The title, "The Rationing Board," has been reduced to "Rationing Board" and is being rationed practically everything that is threatened with a shortage. The members of the board, who serve without compensation, are faced with one of the most thankless tasks in the whole setup. They are required to adhere strictly to the rules handed down by the State Administrator, who in turn receives his orders from the National organization. But it seems that it is just human nature to criticize "Monday night" the fellow closest home.

Having departed for Tampa last Friday afternoon it was necessary to miss the President's Birthday Dance put on by the Palokke Elks. But from all accounts since I returned Sunday night it was really something to see. I have it on good authority that at least one patron of the "shindig" regained consciousness the next day with his spirits still soaring, but with the realization that he was expected to be home in Fort Pierce for the weekend. After taking a look at his physiology in the morning he resorted to the strategy of including a colleague to accompany him for the football in which the presence of company in his home might serve to defer a well deserved "dog house" sentence.

With six fatal accidents in this section during the past month motorists are warned that traffic laws are to be strictly enforced to prevent this lament loss of life. The condition of the road from here to Palokke makes driving at high speed a real menace and State Highway Patrolmen are going to "beat down" on law violators. You fast driving boys had better take your foot out of the carburetors.

BELLE GLADE TEAM TAKES ON LA BELLE

The Belle Glade Rams came crashing through last Tuesday night when the team from the town by a score of 40 to 27. The girls team did not play last night but will play tonight at 7:30 p. m. playing the LaBelle high school team at LaBelle. The boys game will follow.

The Belle Glade boys team has Williams and Kenyon as guards, Warren as center and Eldon and Armstrong as guards. Warren has just been gashed and has proved to be a big help to the Rams. The LaBelle boys are coached by Coach Williams and the Belle Glade Rams are coached by Coach Williams.

The girls team from over Moore Haven last Friday night. The odds were in favor of Moore Haven but the team that the loss of one game this year served as a booster for the Rams. Every indication shows that the Rams are real winners this year. They have what it takes to make a good team and Malcom Miller, personnel manager of the Gold-Dobrow theatres will invite the merchants of each town to each sponsor a young lady to compete in the contest for the honor of representing their community in this event.

Naval Traming Plane Crashes In Lake; 1 Dead

Accident Occurs 19 Miles North of Canal Point Thursday a. m.

A Naval training plane from Opa-Locka Naval Air Station crashed in Lake Okechobee about nine o'clock Thursday morning, while on maneuvers causing the death of one occupant.

According to witnesses the pilot evidently crashed to avoid a collision with another of the three planes that were flying in formation. He attempted to pull out of a dive near the water and ran the other two planes too close and attempted to dive again to prevent the crash of the plane, is the belief of one witness.

The plane was too near the water to allow him to level off again and the plane crashed and turned over on its back. The pilot managed to free himself and swim but the other occupant was pinned in the wreckage and was drowned.

Five performances are scheduled for the week and afternoon efforts of Navy divers to free the victim had been unsuccessful. The plane was being made to have a dredge from the government's arsenal used by Mrs. H. C. Willis to the scene to raise the plane so that the body might be recovered.

The accident occurred near a fishing camp operated by George V. Denon, who heard the crash sound. (Continued on page 3)

Mrs. Franz had been in frail health for several years suffering from a heart ailment which caused her death.

Arrangements for the funeral are in charge of the Everglades Funeral Home. Services will be conducted at the Seventh Day Adventist church in Belle Glade, of which she was a member, on Sunday at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery in West Palm Beach.

She was preceded in death by her husband, George Franz, who died July 4, 1928. Survivors include a son and daughter, Frank and Mary.

Belle Glade Club Has Guest Speaker At Weekly Meeting

Mrs. Jackson Talks On Welfare for Migratory Workers

Mrs. Carolyn Jackson, home management director at the Ocala Migratory Camp, was guest speaker on the topic of welfare at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Belle Glade Women's Club Wednesday afternoon and explained the numerous ways in which the living standards of migratory workers have been improved.

"The majority of our migrants have known better days," she said, "and in most cases it is through circumstances rather than by choice that they have drifted to this place. Naturally, a place to place. Naturally, a place to place. Naturally, a place to place."
